

The Williamson Bridge.

The bridge across Tug river at Williamson, W. Va., built by Wallace and Ben Williamson, is now completed and in use by the public. The Williamsons have laid out a town on the Kentucky side of the river as a suburb to the prosperous capital of Mingo county. It will be used for residence purposes. We are informed that considerable attention will be paid to making it an attractive village with the necessary building restrictions, etc. The Williamsons are very enterprising men and have the money to make the enterprise go.

The Williamson Enterprise says: "Since the practical completion of the bridge, it is all the rage to take a walk over into Kentucky. Last Sunday hundreds of people spent the afternoon among the apple trees and shady walks of South Williamson. There is not much doubt that this will prove a very popular suburb for the greater city, and as a residence town, will be hard to beat in either state."

NO MORE C. O. D.

By Federal Court Decision Such Shipments Are Discontinued.

Grafton, W. Va., April 21.—A consent order has been entered by Judge Nathan Goff, of the United States Circuit Court for this district, whereby the United States Express Company may not longer receive or deliver in any part of West Virginia, C. O. D. shipments of intoxicating liquor.

The case in which this has been ordered is the injunction suit of the Crescent Liquor Company. By agreement among the United States and other express companies, entered into a short time ago, the handling of C. O. D. liquor was abolished in every other State in the Union, and now with the traffic at end in West Virginia this method of shipping intoxicants passes into history for the entire United States.

W. H. C. McKinster Dropped Dead.

Rev. W. H. C. McKinster, a well known citizen of this county, dropped dead last Saturday at his home at Mattle. He was in apparently as good health as usual and was feeding the chickens. Failing to return to the house within a reasonable time his wife went out to look for him and found him dead.

Mr. McKinster was about 72 years old and had been a local preacher in the South Methodist Church for many years. He leaves a number of sons and daughters and many relatives. The funeral took place on Monday and was largely attended.

A Hand on Your Shoulder.

"When a man ain't got a coat and he's feelin' kind of blue. An' the clouds hang dark and heavy and won't let the sunshine through. It's a great thing, oh, my brethren, for a feller just to lay His hand upon your shoulder in a friendly sort of way."

"It makes a chap feel curious, it makes the tear drops start. An' you feel a sort of flutter in the region of your heart, You can't look up into his eyes, you don't know what to say. When a hand is laid on your shoulder in a friendly sort of way."

"Oh, the world's a curious compound, with its honey and its gall, With its care and bitter crosses, but a good old world after all, An' a good God must have made it, leastways that's what I say. When a hand is on my shoulder in a friendly sort of way."

CAPTURED.

Frank Marcus Caught in W. V. Roberts' Store Saturday Night.

Frank Marcus broke into W. V. Roberts' store at Cadmus, this county, last Saturday night and was caught in the act by George Webb, the manager of the store, who was concealed in the building.

Marcus is only 16 years old. Rhodes Newsom, a boy of about the same age, confessed to a part in a similar offense previous to this and he and Marcus were before the court yesterday and waived examination. The grand jury which meets next week will take up their cases.

Mr. Webb was given a tip on the intended burglary by a boy who was asked by Marcus to join in the robbery. Mr. Webb secreted himself in the store and did not have to wait very long after night came on. It was a rainy, dreary evening and the boy got busy early, as he probably presumed there would be no one out after dark in the inclement weather.

Mr. Webb remained quiet until Marcus had forced open a window and entered. He then demanded that Marcus throw up his hands, but the boy went right toward him until Webb lighted a match. Marcus then threw up his hands. He was brought to Louisa that night and placed in jail.

Mr. Roberts says he has suffered a great deal at the hands of thieves and he is determined to land them whenever possible.

The boys are the sons of Henry Marcus and Tom Newsom.

Getting Even With the Bluegrass.

The people of Jackson, Breathitt county, did not fail to take advantage of the opportunity given them by the night riders to rub it in on the cultured Blue Grass section about their lawlessness.

Jackson, Ky., April 14.—At a meeting held "for the purpose of considering the best interests of our beloved State and to deplore the lawlessness existing in the tobacco districts" stirring speeches were made, and a committee on resolutions reported as follows:

"Whereas, A State of anarchy, lawlessness and reign of terror exists throughout the central and western sections of our State, known as the tobacco belt; and

"Whereas, People from other States, being afraid to pass through the lawless Bluegrass and Black patch, are kept from Breathitt and other law abiding mountain counties, thereby hindering us in the development of our natural resources; and

"Whereas, We the citizens of Breathitt County, deeply deplore the fact that the people of the tobacco districts have brought disgrace and reproach upon the fair name of our beloved State, and, although, we have been deeply maligned in days past, we desire to go upon record as deplored and condemning the State of lawlessness existing in the Bluegrass and the Black patch; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we tender to the people of the tobacco district our deepest sympathy and condemn the lawlessness of those responsible for it, and that we will co-operate with them in any way to restore law and order and the fair name of our beloved Kentucky."

Painful Accident.

On last Monday afternoon an accident near the freight depot resulted in painful injuries to brakeman G. L. Walker. Freight train No. 68 had pulled in, and Walker was uncoupling cars at the depot platform. By some mischance he was caught between the platform and a car and his right collar bone was dislocated at the shoulder. If the car had been going in the opposite direction nothing could have saved Walker from being crushed to death. The company surgeon, Dr. Wrotcn, was called, and after dressing the shoulder he sent Walker to his home at Russell.

Home Circle Column.

A Column Dedicated To Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle.

The best use we can make of our life is to live so that we shall be a benediction to every one we meet.

The happiest persons in the world are not those who have the most done for them, but those who do the most for others.

Life is hard for many people and we have no right to withhold any word or touch or act of love which will enlighten the load or cheer the heart of any fellow struggler.

Did you ever stand in the golden sunlight of a warm day with your eyes turned upon a sheet of fly paper? if so you may have noticed how when one fly adheres to the sticky surface, its companion, instead of profiting by the horrible warning, immediately buzzes down and goes to destruction in the same manner.

and in a little time there are hundreds in the throes of death.

They are fools to be sure, and so are men. Can we then be surprised caught in the nets of vice. There are examples and warnings all about us.

Broan wings, but they treat them as lightly as do flies and step down to death just as insanely.

promise of a wonderful career. For a season he passed out of sight,

but by and by he appeared again to disclose to those about him concerning the "life which now is and that which is to come." Such was the power of this strange personality that we have authority for saying that "They came to him from every quarter." This was the carpenter's son. This was the Man of Gallilee.

Across the darkness of the world

there flashed the light of a personality whose beams still radiate with a pure and undeviating glow. Its beams are still as potent to send warmth into a human soul as in the days when the multitudes were hastening to him "from every quarter."

So widespread is his influence that throughout the length and breadth of Christendom church spires are pointing heavenward in His name, school doors are opening in which people may enter and study the principles of the civilization which He came to establish. Families are being organized and homes built upon an ordinance which He founded. So widely has He come to be known as the fountain of the world's purest joy, that in the hour of sorrow and even death stricken hearts pause that they may hear

Him whisper:

"Let not your heart be troubled,

As I am with you always."

ooo

CHANGE.

The secret of happiness is constant change within the limitations of reason and common sense. A rut in the human soul is like a rut in the road, dangerous and upsetting.

If we must remain at the same tasks

year after year for nearly a whole life-time, then it should be our constant effort to get all the variety we can into our lives in other ways. The fact that farmer's wives lead more than any other class of persons is attributed to the terrible monotony of their lives,

which are one unceasing round of hard work. A machine bearing on a single point of metal, wears out that point speedily. It is precisely the same with our lives. One dull round of thought, doing the same tasks at the same hour of the year after year, will break down the finest, strongest brain.

So get out and have a vacation.

At least give yourself a vacation of thought. Read new things; walk along new roads; look at new pictures and new buildings. Invite fresh new thoughts always to your soul; so shall you always be young.

Be not so sure that your fondest theory is exactly the correct one.

Standing still is decay and death.

Hold the same plow handle, bend over to the right, forty years, and you thoughts chained down to the land and you become a hump-backed old hunk—blind, deaf, weak and unpleasant.

Keep up with the wagon. Change your old views and habits for new and better ones when you find them; and be always on the lookout for them.

TRIBUTE TO WOMEN.

Place her among the flowers, foster

her as a tender plant, and you will thus make her a tender plant, and she becomes a thing of fancy, waywardness and folly. She is unmet by a dewdrop, fretted by the touch of a butterfly's wing, ready to faint

at the sound of a beetle or the rattling of a window sash at night and is even overpowered by the perfume

of a rose bud. But let her calamity come, rouse her affections, enkindle

the fires of her being and mark

then how strong is her heart. Place her in the heat of battle, give her a child, a bird, or anything to protect, and see her lifting her white arms as a child as her own blood crimsoned her upturned forehead, praying for her life to protect the hel-

los. Transplant her into the dark places of the earth, call forth her energies to action and her breath becomes a bellowing, her presence a blessing. She dispels each by each the stride of a stalking pestilence,

when man, the strong and brave,

pale and affrighted, shrinks away,

Misfortune hurls her not; she wears away her life in silent endurance

and goes forth with less timidity,

she is a bud full of odors waiting for the winds of adversity to scatter

them abroad—gold, valuable, but untried in the furnace.

Announcement.

FOR CONGRESS.
Ellis E. Lawrence, of Boyd county, authorizes us to announce his candidacy for Congress from the 9th Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic convention.

Republican Candidate.

Judge T. S. Thompson, of Louisa, announces that he is a candidate for delegate to the National Republican convention from the Ninth District, subject to the county conventions to be held April 25th.

The Senate Committee on Pensions has increased the House pension appropriation bill $12,000,000 to carry out the provisions of the widows pension bill.

About 30,000 miners employed in the Pittsburgh district resumed work Monday in accordance with the agreement reached last week at the Toledo joint conference.

President Roosevelt says the five greatest men living in this country are Wm. Jennings Bryan, Grover Cleveland, James J. Hill, Andrew Carnegie and John Mitchell. These are the five men he has invited to attend the great conference to be held at the White House May 10th, with the Governors of all the States, Supreme Justices and members of Congress.

The Fort Gay Leader does not take very kindly to our suggestions about planting willows along the river banks to protect them from breaking. It thinks we should wait for our exceedingly deliberate government to rip-rap the banks. We submit the case without further argument, citing those who doubt the efficacy of the willow prescription to the scores of places along the river where industrious owners of banks have used it successfully, instead of waiting for something better to turn up and save them. Take a trip to Kenova sometime, Mr. Leader, and look out the car window occasionally.

A dispatch from Frankfort says that J. C. C. Mayo is to be a candidate for Congress in the Tenth district. It is hardly probable that this is true. There has long been a strong sentiment there for him, but the trouble will be to induce him to enter the race. The dispatch reads as follows:

J. C. C. Mayo, of Paintsville, is to be a candidate for Congress from the Tenth district, according to Representative W. W. Hopkins, of Paintsville, who was in Frankfort today on business. Mr. Hopkins said that Mr. Mayo would accept a nomination to beat Congressman John Ley so far that the latter will know that he has been running. Mayo is one of the best known in Kentucky. He has made an fortune by developing the mountains, and the people in the district are all for him as he wants.

Wm. J. Bryan and Harry Watterson took breakfast together at the Norman House in New York Monday. Both behaved beautifully and Harry gave out an interview after breakfast predicting Bryan's nomination and stating that his chances of election were good.

We have a letter from one of the C. & O. officials stating that the matter of providing better passenger cars for the Big Sandy division has been taken up with the higher officials at Richmond. With idle cars in their yards of much better class than these we have it should not take them long to make up their minds. Let's see how promptly they will act.

The Fort Gay Leader seems to have taken seriously our few facetiously intended remarks on the hen question, made in reply to its voluble cackle last week.

We hereby take it all back and offer our apology. We didn't mean it, Sam, 'deed we didn't! We do this at the risk of being accused of showing the white feather. We assure you that the whole thing was intended for a joke. Believe us!

This will be a good lesson for us. It proves to us how bad and sad are our "jokes," and hereafter we shall probably cut them out entirely. Or, if occasionally we break this resolution we expect to label the thing so that, however gloomy or fierce the joke, the densest reader will know for himself that it is a JOKE. Not necessarily a funny joke, but if it is made clear that the writer does not mean to be serious, this will help out considerably.

We agree with you that the council or bridge company should build a walk on the Louisa approach to the bridge out of something more substantial than sawdust—and this is no joke. But we are not mad enough over this or the hen question, either, to fight.

WEBBVILLE.

GOOD BREAD

"My bread won't rise" is a common complaint among bakers here. A disagreeable thing, but there's always a cause. Nine times out of ten it's on account of the flour.

Dewey's Best Flour

does away with such complaints. If you can bake at all, you can have good luck with it. It is a flour with life in it. Made of best wheat, plump grains, ground by a superior process. The miller that makes it knows how.

Try a sack and see what a difference there will be in your bread, pie and cakes next bake day. Order from your local dealer. If he doesn't have it, he will get it if you ask him.

This is Mrs. Roscoe Walter's first visit to her husband's parents. Roscoe is in Texas on Government business.

Aunt Rachel and Uncle Flem Kitchen are no better.

Mr. Editor, while there are so many evangelists going through the country doing good and praying for all sinners we would like for them all over the States to hold two or three extra days of fasting and prayer for the last Legislature and present Governor, for we don't know how else to get any help. Everything else has failed in getting the right laws and punishing the criminals.

The writer went to Wallowhole, in Elliott county, Friday to take depositions in a divorce case where affinity took such a strong hold on my client's wife that she ran off with her affinity and went to Washington and has lived there four years.

April 19, Easter Sunday, Mr. Editor, 68 years ago at 3 o'clock today I was born, and if my recollection is right, it was a cold, snowy windy day, not pretty like it is today. And after my long ride up in Elliott county yesterday I feel like I imagine I felt that day after my arrival.

My face is somewhat wrinkled now, but not so red. Then they washed me in castile soap and greased me all over with mutton tallow, and gave me for breakfast catnip tea and mammy's milk. Today before I got up my "better half" rubbed me all over with Modoc Oil, washed me with laundry soap, and gave me for breakfast Elijah's Manna and scrambled eggs. If the good Lord will be as good to me for the next 68 years as He has been for the last 68 I will be very glad, for this is a good old world for me and I don't want to swap my place for an unknown.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane supportive remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weakness and discharges, while the Restorative, cases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquido—a general tonic for the system. For positive local help, use as well as for the system.

A LETTER

From a Former Lawrence County Citizen.

Having just received a copy of the Big Sandy News sent to me by a friend, I am reminded of my youthful days in the old State of Kentucky. It was there in the county of Lawrence, at Louisa, that I spent my childhood days. My thoughts are often turned to the scenes of my birth-place among the mountains, hills and valleys and I am often reminded of the vast difference in my old home of today. As it was 26 years ago that I left Willard, I do not doubt there is a great change in many ways. In fact, there would be a great change with me, as nearly all my old friends and relatives have gone to that great beyond since that time. As I looked over the items of the Big Sandy News I saw many familiar names of the young generation, which brought to my memory those sweet days of old.

Now a word for my present home. Grain-farming is the leading industry of Minnesota and more than two-thirds of the population of the state are engaged in agricultural pursuits. Fully one-third of the state is covered by a belt of white pine timber.

Minneapolis, the leading city, is noted for its flour mills, the largest in the world. In their rapid growth and development Minneapolis and St. Paul have surpassed any other cities in the United States. The lake region of Minnesota is celebrated for its delightful scenery. During summer it is the resort of thousands of tourists and pleasure-seekers. Duluth is the chief lake port and the eastern terminus of the Northern Pacific Railway. Winona is an important lumber market. There are other very important cities which I haven't the space to mention.

Excellent schools and colleges are numerous in this state, also, churches of all denominations.

Mrs. Martha L. Bryant, Montrose, Minnesota.

Samantha Shortridge.

The subject of this sketch was born May 23, 1863. She was married to Van Buren Shortridge October 20, 1881, to which union were born five children, one son and four daughters, all of whom survive her. Sister Shortridge peacefully passed away from this world February 23, 1908, near Lizzie, Ky., after a short illness. She suffered intensely, but her suffering was endured with the greatest of Christian courage. She joined the Baptist church while quite young. About the year 1879, when Isaac Fannin was pastor of the Trinity church, she joined the M. E. Church, South. She was converted in the year of 1891 and remained a consistent Christian and member until her death. When she realized she was going to die she told her husband she was ready—that all was well with her soul. The writer of this sketch (her pastor) had the pleasure of being in her home quite often, and ascertaining the only burden of her heart was for the unsaved part of her family, especially for the conversion of her only son. In our last conversation with her she said that her prayers were being answered—her son was quitting his evil ways and was reading his Bible and taking an active part in the church and Sunday-school. Sister Shortridge realized she was to die. At bedtime the night before, she called her baby to her bedside and kissed her and bade her good bye. It seemed at this time that her only thought was for her children. A message had been sent to Nora, her daughter at Fullerton, Ky., requesting her to hasten home. She was delayed and could not reach her bedside until after her death. Word was lost for her saying, "If Nora does not arrive in time to see me tell her she knows where to find me." She called on Bro. J. B. Webb for prayer, after which she rejoiced in her Savior's love, and told the husband and children not to weep or mourn over her for her hope was bright and she was going home to God. The church loses a good and faithful member, the community a useful citizen, the family a noble mother, one who was always ready to help the poor and needy and the sick; the husband a kind and loving wife, the children a mother and friend. She leaves a husband, five children, seven brothers and two sisters to mourn her loss. It was hard. But God is love, and he does not willingly afflict anyone. The funeral was preached by Rev. Isaac Fannin, assisted by the writer, who had charge of the funeral services, after which we laid her body to rest in the family cemetery.

The Gandy Powers Case.

Wilson is still occupied with the defense of Gandy Powers for Arthur Goebel, brother of the Governor, protested the pardon.

Goebel said that he desired to against the pardon of Jim and Caleb Powers. He referred to the efforts of the defense to elect Harry Youtsey in the first trial of Powers, and yet, after he had been condemned to death, he had to flood him with charges in the following ones. He denied that it had ever been the purpose of the Commonwealth to defend Youtsey. It had always prosecuted him.

"It is a disgrace to the State that Youtsey has not been hanged, and also that the other two have not been hanged." Mr. Goebel spoke earnestly and freely without passion and with the ease of a practiced speaker. He took up the testimony of the new witnesses introduced at the last trial of Powers, discrediting their evidence carefully with the skill of the most finished criminal attorney. The large crowd in the hall listened breathlessly to every word of the brother of the murdered man.

Mr. Goebel said that, in reference to the testimony of Col. Scott, which had not been given and had been referred to by the defense attorney, he had gone to Col. Scott after his (Scott's) conference with Youtsey and asked him directly and man to man if Youtsey had admitted that he fired the shot that killed William Goebel. He said that Col. Scott had told him that Youtsey told him that he did not.

Mr. Goebel closed his appeal to the Governor with a peroration so eloquent and pathetic that it brought tears to the eyes of many to the eyes of many, he said:

"I protest against the pardon of Jim Howard and Caleb Powers. I refer you to the record of their cases and all kindred cases. I ask you to make an analytical and comparative study of the evidence of every witness who has appeared in every trial, neighbor that the capability and the interest to get liquidated the interest of every witness to tell the truth of the case to be judged.

The best criterion is not what I worse than they may say, but the evidence against itself. The record shows that Powers is guilty as can be. The world which knows he is guilty. For eight long years I have assisted the commonwealth in this battle. I have done nothing that was not strictly in accordance with the law. I ask you to let the law take its course.

There are those, many, who number many have said it to me, that though Powers is guilty he has suffered enough and should be pardoned. That is mercy. If this is to a question of mercy, I ask you to listen to the requiem of the birds which chant over the grave of William Goebel and to consider that a life and liberty were as dear to them as theirs are to them."

There was silence throughout the hall for a minute. Mr. Goebel turned and walked out.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come." Says Mr. C. Farthing, of Mill Creek, I. T. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. Death of Mrs. L. E. Bradley.

In the midst of life we are in death. How true these words appeal to the death of Drusie Shortridge Bradley, who at the age of 24 years, eight months and four days fell asleep in Jesus, "from which none never wake still say, 'Thy will be done.'

her Christ, and the writer had the pleasant opportunity of associating with her often during her last days and heard her say, "I am ready to go it is well with my soul."

Her funeral services were conducted at Fallsburg, Ky., her old home, by the Rev. H. B. Hulett, assisted by the writer. Many sorrowing friends and relatives witnessed the earthly appearance of Drusie Shortridge Bradley.

Her parents and husband desire through the writer to extend to the people of Galtensburg and Fallsburg their hearty thanks and appreciation of their many kind words, deeds and sympathy extended during the sickness and death and burial of their dear daughter and wife. May God's richest blessings rest upon them all.

Why should our tears in sorrow flow, When God recalls His own, And bids them leave a world of woe For an immortal crown?

Then let our sorrow cease to flow, God has recalled his own.

But let our hearts in every woe Still say, "Thy will be done."

To Those Who Have No Bank Connections:

You cannot accomplish much in a business way without the services of a bank. And when it comes to the question of whether or not you should have some bank connections, there is only one answer. Any business will derive some benefit from a bank's service.

A bank is not a luxury for the rich man; that idea is fast disappearing; the people from all classes are beginning to recognize the importance of a bank connection.

The bank helps the small boy to save, the farmer is afforded great convenience by the checking account. Every individual is aided by one or more of the bank's departments, just as demands require.

hazard on a log raft. Hamilton, O., April 17.—James Guilette, of Frenchburg, Monroe county, Ky., wanted in that town on five charges of forgery, was captured today on the farm of Edward Behnert, near Sommerville this county. The arrest was attended by exciting incidents.

Deputy Sheriff James Lyon and Constable A. J. Conarro, of this county, went to the Bennett home. Conarro entered alone and found Guilette seated in a chair. When arrested the man drew a knife and put up a furious fight.

The officers drew their revolvers and finally knocked him down. Guilette raved like a madman and begged the officers to let him get his revolver, offering to fight it out with the two of them at ten paces.

He was taken to Middletown and this afternoon returned to Kentucky. The prisoner is but 23 years old.

Because his mother, Mrs. Mary Gose of Jackson, Ky., feared that her son, James M. Gose, would get into serious trouble owing to the fact that he was a witness in the Hargis case, she persuaded him to enlist in the army, shortly after which time he was sentenced by a general court-martial to dishonorable discharge and seven years' imprisonment at hard labor in the Fort Leavenworth penitentiary. At the request of Mr. Langley, of the Tenth district, the President has pardoned Gose, and he will be released within a few days. Gose enlisted in the Field Artillery early in 1905. While on a few hours leave with a companion he came across a drunken soldier and, in a spirit of fun took off his shoes and carried them to his quarters. The soldier complained to the commanding officer and Gose was tried for larceny. The court could not see the joke, and gave him seven years. The mother of the soldier recently called upon Representative Langley and enlisted his sympathy in the case. Mr. Langley explained the matter to the President, who has ordered his release.

Frankfort, Ky., April 15.—Gov. Wilson pardoned Tandy Martin, of Knott county, who was given a ten-year sentence for the killing of John J. Amburgy. State Senator Hillard H. Smith was greatly interested in the case and presented all the facts to the Governor in such a manner that the Governor was convinced it was proper to issue the pardon. The Governor's reasons for pardoning are as follows:

The case presents strong considerations for the interposition and indulgence of the Executive in that the killing for which the said Tandy Martin was convicted appears to have been done in defense of his home and family from an attack made on his home in the night time by a crowd of armed men.

This pardon is recommended by Justice J. P. Hobson, who wrote the opinion in the case, and his recommendation for a pardon was concurred in by Justices T. J. Nunn, Henry S. Baker, W. E. Settle and Chief Justice Edward C. O'Rear, of the Court of Appeals. The pardon was also recommended by Attorney General Hays and his assistant, Mr. Morris, who prosecuted the case in the Court of Appeals, and by hundreds of citizens.

The Ashland Independent says: George Tabor, of Olive Hill, U. S. Deputy Marshall, for this district, who recently, while intoxicated, started a rough house in the Hotel Ventura here, has been made to "waltz the plank."

Press Jackson, of this city has been appointed in his stead, and has filled his bond and assumed his duties. This is in the way of a re-appointment for Mr. Jackson, as he has already served eight years as U. S. Marshall, and his official record is first class.

Mr. Jackson resigned the office two years ago on account of other business interests. He was succeeded by Tom Salyers, now a policeman in Cynthiamburg, and the latter in turn by George Tabor of Olive Hill. Tabor after going into office, "tore up jack" in Ashland on two or three occasions, and each time was given a stiff fine in Police court.

The last time—some four weeks ago—Judge Hampton not only fined him heavily, but made him give a stiff peace bond, in the meantime keeping him locked up in the city jail until relatives came to his aid.

Mr. Jackson will have his office headquarters in Cynthiamburg.

FOR HAY FEVER.

Perfume is Sometimes Used With excellent Results.

A CASE IN POINT.

MISS MAYME E. SMITH.

M. Mounts, Columbus, Ohio, writes:

"I have need of perfume for catarrh and hay fever. The results being remarkable, I can highly recommend it to all who are suffering with the above diseases. I am happy to be able to say it has helped me wonderfully."

What is known as hay fever is in reality epidemic catarrh, a catarrhal condition of the nose, throat, sometimes the bronchial tubes, induced by some local irritant.

Their irritation is generally due to vegetal emanations of some sort. Hay has been suspected as being the cause of this malady, hence its name, hay fever. It has been attributed to rag weed and other vegetation also. It is a very capricious disease, coming and going. A medicine that will help one case may not help another. Such treatment has always been very uncertain and unsatisfactory.

Perfume helps some cases without a doubt, although it is not claimed to be an infallible remedy for such cases.
